FLAMES AT OMAHA.

ONE FIREMAN KILLED AND SEVEN INJURED.

BOYD'S THEATER GUTTED BY FIRE.

"The Walls of New York" Company Lose Everything—Five Alarms Turned In One Hour—Total Loss $300,000—Firemen Badly Hampered by Wires.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 3.—From 5 o'clock till after 8 last night the Omaha fire department had a campaign that tested it to the utmost. At 5:02 p. m. an alarm brought the downtown companies to the Farnum Street theater. Here a fierce blaze was raging on the stage. During the next hour five alarms were sent in. While the opera house fire was at its height, a second alarm called a portion of the fighting force to Twenty-seventh and Leavenworth streets, where a large frame block was sending up a cloud of lurid smoke. At the theater the battle was a notable one. The building was a large, five-story shell, the auditorium being on the second floor, and above the stage the fly gallery filled a dome thirty feet higher than the roof of the building.

The fire started on the stage in the fly gallery. The stage hands were busy setting the scenery for the evening performance of "The Walls of New York." A fly swung against the gas-jet and in a second the whole mass of painted canvas was blazing. It burned so swiftly that there was no time for lowering the fire-proof curtain that cut off the stage from the auditorium.

Companies 3 and 2 were first there and began the fight on the stage. They were not permitted to remain long there, for soon after they got to work the roof of the dome fell and six firemen and one bystander were injured and one fireman was killed.

Dead—ALBERT JEROME, fireman, No. 3. Injured—JOHN MCBRIDE, captain, No. 2. By fire and head crushed. Injured internally by may die. TOM RUSK, No. 3 hose, fractured and legs broken. JIM DOWNS, fireman No. 1 hose, crushed chest, condition critical. JAMES MARRON, fireman No. 2, leg broken. Internal injuries, condition doubtful. J. N. SCORRY, driver No. 2, face burned, scalp wound.

J. H. GAYNOR, internal injuries may die. On the outside the firemen were hampered by the network of wires, telegraph, telephone, electric light, etc., and found great difficulty in doing effective work.

At 8 o'clock the fire at the theater was under control, and the chief of the fire department, who had been extinguished. The walls of New York company loses everything, but its fire engine. By a strange instance of fate the steamer was the only possession of the company that had not been taken onto the stage. All the members of the company lose their wardrobes.

The theater was owned by the American loan and trust company, which assigned during the summer, but was soon after reorganized. It was valued at $250,000 and insured for $200,000. The loss to the owners of the walls of New York company is $6,100 and the members of the company lose almost as much more. The theater was built in 1871 by then Mayor, since Governor James E. Boyd, at a cost of $200,000. It was opened by the Fay Templeton opera company in August, 1881, the place being "Masque."

The losses of tenants of the theater will reach $50,000.

Against Repeal of State Bank Tax.

A number of bills are pending before the committee, but the arguments will be directed mainly in support of the proposition to repeal the ten percent tax on state banks. A Democratic member says that such a bill can not secure a favorable report from the committee, but that while all the southern members are counted in its favor, it is known that at least two are opposed to such action.

For the Indian service the estimates aggregate $7,046,376.61, as against $7,233,016.44 for the current year, a decrease of $186,639.83. This decrease comes principally from the expiration of treaty obligations. The salaries of the commissioner and assistant commissioner, however, have been recommended for an increase of $500 each.

MOBILE FLOODED.

IMMENSE DAMAGE DONE BY A TIDAL WAVE.

PART OF THE CITY UNDER WATER.

The Bustest Thoroughfares of the Place Are Being Navigated in Boats—The Worst Storm That Has Ever Visited Mobile—Disastrous Storm and Loss of Life in Louisiana.

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 3.—A southeast gale broke here yesterday morning about 4 o'clock and kept up until 10 o'clock last night. The wind blew the water in from the gulf until the river reached Royal street, which is an elevation of about fifteen feet from the river height. There is no possible chance for estimating the money damage. All the wholesale and agricultural portion of the retail district of the city is some four feet under water, and thousands of dollars worth of goods have been damaged.

The great boat Ida Low has been driven on the wharf at the foot of St. Francis street. The bay boat Heroine was driven on the Mobile and Ohio wharf and almost totally wrecked. The Crescent City, another bay boat, left Point Clear at the same time. The Heroine did and has not since been heard from. It is reported that three dredges working the channel have been lost. It is also reported here that some fifty miles of the Louisville and Nashville road along the coast is under water, and that the Biloxi bridge has been swept away by the gale. Nothing has been heard from the gardeners in the marshes east of the city and the worst is feared.

In this city houses have been unroofed, trees blown down and one cotton warehouse has succumbed to the fury of the gale. All the smokestacks of all the manufacturing industries have been blown down. Street car traffic has been totally suspended because of the damage to the electric wires, and last night the city was in darkness. The bustest thoroughfares in the city are being navigated in boats and persons wading up to their armpits in order to wade their goods.

It is conceded by all to be the worst storm that has ever visited Mobile. The southern part of the city presents a scene of wreckage as if it had been bombarded. At 10 o'clock last night the storm abated and the waters began to recede.

SENATORS WARM UP.

MR. SHERMAN USES VIGOROUS LANGUAGE.

CALLS SENATOR WHITE TO TIME.

MEANS, DUBOIS AND WASHBURN ALSO HAVE A TRY—The Debate on the Election Bill in the House—President Cleveland Will Not Listen to Any Compromise Talk.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The senate yesterday entered upon the ninth week of the extra session with barely a score of senators present. After a little delay one more than a quorum was secured, forty-four senators responding when the roll was called, and the senate proceeded with routine morning business.

Mr. Sherman called attention to a misstatement in the recent speech of Senator White of California, quoting from the Bankers' Magazine of August, 1873, as to the coinage act of 1871. There was no such statement in the Bankers' Magazine, he said, and the whole statement was a manufactured lie from beginning to end. It was worse than a forgery—an absolute fabrication branded with the brand of infamy. He did not blame the senator from California, because the alleged article from the magazine had frequently been quoted by others.

Mr. White said he had taken the extract from a work written by a very prominent Republican and had not himself examined the Bankers' magazine. If the extract was not correct he would omit it from the later edition of his speech.

The silver purchase repeal bill was then taken up and Mr. Dubois of Idaho, rising to a personal statement, denied the remark of Mr. Gorman of Maryland, that the resolution introduced by Mr. Dubois to defer the consideration of financial legislation until the senatorial vacancies from the states of Washington, Montana and Wyoming should be filled, was offered for the purpose of consuming time.

Mr. Washburn of Minnesota, a supposed object of the resolution was to show that the opponents of repeal were being taken at an unfair advantage. He would therefore state the facts and allow the senate to reach its own conclusion. Of the states in question two were not silver producing states. At those two states were represented by two senators who did not favor the repeal of the Sherman law. He referred to Washington and Wyoming.

"I would like the senator from Minnesota," said Mr. Dubois, "to state by whose authority he makes that assertion."

"By the authority of the senators themselves," said Mr. Washburn.

"I imagine those senators will represent that legislation," said Mr. Dubois. "I state that the senators from Washington (Spaure) and Wyoming (Carey) are not for the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law. The senator from Washington has offered an amendment in the interest of silver."

"The senator of Washington (Spaure) told me," Mr. Washburn declared, "that he would vote for the unconditional repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act."

This closed the incident and Mr. Kyle of South Dakota addressed the senate in opposition to the repeal bill.

After Mr. Kyle had been speaking about an hour and a half his colleague Mr. Dubois, who followed, stated the absence of a quorum. Thereupon the roll was called, a quorum appeared and Mr. Kyle proceeded. He read his speech from manuscript in an almost inaudible voice and, until the roll was called, scarcely a dozen senators were present during its delivery.

McMillan of Michigan and Dolph of Oregon followed in favor of repeal.

ELECTIONS DEBATE.

Only One Hundred Members Present—Mr. Dinsmore Answers Mr. Grosvenor.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The second week of the debate on the bill to repeal the national election laws was ushered in quietly in the house yesterday, less than 100 members being on the floor. Mr. Dinsmore, a new Democratic member from Arkansas, opened in advocacy of the bill. He referred to the threat of Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio that if this bill were passed the Republican party would withdraw their aid from the administration in its battle for the repeal of the Sherman law and said: "There are some of us on this side for whom that threat has no terrors. Although the Sherman law is a cowardly makeshift, a poor mean law, it presents the only hope of those who believe in the continuance of silver money."

Mr. Denison of Alabama followed in support of the measure. He is one of the promising new members from the South. He graphically described the conditions in his section of the country following the war, when, he said, with clanking sabers, military satraps dragged judges from the benches and administered civil justice. These citizen laws were followed with the purpose of humiliating the South and forcing her to her knees. In speaking of the war itself, he declared with emphasis that he had performed his duty as a Confederate soldier and was proud of it. "I believed I was right," said he, "and under similar circumstances I would do it again. Oh, you didn't whip us," he added, in reply to a suggestion from Mr. Lacey of Iowa, that they would be forced back into the arena. "You didn't whip us, we were ourselves out trying to whip you."

Mr. Cooper of Florida next spoke in favor of the bill, and was followed by Champ Clark of Missouri in a vigorous speech in support of the bill.

Governor MacCorkle of West Virginia is being severely criticized by the Democratic press of that state for appearing before the ways and means committee at Washington in favor of a tariff on coal.

A WALK OVER COMPETITION is the route we take in the shoe trade, and we not only enjoy it ourselves, but make it very interesting to our customers. Our stock of footwear is as much beyond competition as a point a mile away is beyond hearing. These goods reach the record for speed, because though they can't take wings, they take feet, and they're getting connected with so many pairs of feet that every day makes a big gap in the assortment. There are no gaps in the procession of buyers, though; they're marching right along to the tune of "Still there more to follow."
